3. About 23 June, four junk squadrons, each comprised of three small fishing junks fitted with outboard motors, were based at Tungch'ung (N 26-34, E 119-56). These junks were painted grey with the characters Ch'ien Chin (0467/6651) and numbers painted on both sides of the hull and on the bow. Ten Communist soldiers were on board each junk. These junks were under the Sea Defense Headquarters of the Fukien Military District Command and patrolled the area between Tungch'ung and Luhsia (approximately N 26-39, E 120-06).

Comments

1. The presence of seven gunboats in Amoy has been confirmed by other sources.

Comment. It was rumored that these gunboats were built in Shanghai and that they were equipped with radar.

2. Approximately 3,000 naval personnel were stationed in the naval fortresses at Kulanghsu, Kots'o, and Wuilishan;
